Internet Resources for Church Musicians and Organists A Survival Guide

Over the past 15 years, technology has changed the way we function as church musicians. Although our skills stem from ancient traditions, the methods by which we share and expand our art have changed. This workshop will provide some practical resources for church musicians looking to increase their knowledge of the Internet and music technology.

The first part of this workshop will focus on electronic resources for repertoire, worship planning, electronic music services (i.e. online transposition and transcription), and upcoming resources for out-of-print music.

The second half will focus on hardware - technology such as digital music displays, creating and utilizing PDF files, church music related iPod apps and basic recording solutions. The session will conclude with a look into the future of music publishing in conjunction with e-ink technologies. 🎵

Future Tense? A Young Artist's Perspective!

by Michael Barone

Wouldn't we all like to peer into the crystal ball and see what sort of situation organists will face in coming years? But wait, the 'future' is in the hands of today's organ students, and to gain some insights and encourage the stars of tomorrow, the TCAGO will convene a group of youthful performers who will present a special Focus on the Young Musician, a concert-and-conversation on Saturday, January 16, 2010 (9:15 am to 12:30 pm) at Crossview Lutheran Church (6645 McCauley Trail) in Edina.

Listen to them play! - Marvel at their talent! - Enjoy their refreshing perspectives!

This information will reach an audience different from the online TCAGO or PIPE-DREAMS calendars. It's free, and it's another way to let people know about your classical music concerts.

By all means, continue to send information directly to Michael Barone too.

Our Focus on the Young Musician will feature performances by several regional students. Following some introductory social time (with coffee, tea and treats), each student will play a brief selection on the Crossview's 1993 Holtkamp organ. Then, after a brief intermission, they'll be engaged in a moderated conversation about their first stirrings of organ interest, their present and proposed courses of study and their view of the current 'organ scene' and how they hope to enliven it.

Potential participating students include:

Karl Robson (St. Olaf College sophomore; student of Dr. Catherine Rodland; organist at Crossview)

Sam Backman (St. Olaf senior; student of Dr. John Ferguson; began college as a composition major)

Jonathan Gregoire (another Kasling student; former organist at Crossview; recently returned from an autumn quarter of study in France)

Susanna Valleau (student of Dr. Kathrine Handford at Lawrence University in Appleton, Wis., who spent the summer as an intern at C.B. Fisk and the autumn term in Amsterdam studying with Jacques van Oortmerssen)

Joseph Roenbeck (a new Billmeyer graduate student with a jazz background; organist at the Mindekerken in Minneapolis)

Our host, Rebecca Waller, has been director of music at Crossview Lutheran since 1985. Beloved TCAGO member Paul Emch served as organist here beginning in 1995. The Holtkamp organ consists of two manuals and pedal, 28 ranks, with electro-pneumatic action. A detailed specification can be found in the "Organs" section at tcago.org. For detailed directions, look under "About Us: Map and Directions" online at crossview.net.

Is the future of the organ in good hands? Mark this on your calendar, and plan to attend so that you will be in the know! And bring a friend...the public is invited, too! ♪

Dean's Column

A special thank you to the staff at Nativity Catholic Church in St. Paul for the very successful Widor Marathon. What a great experience to hear ALL ten of the Widor Organ Symphonies performed....two each week for five weeks. Thank you to Patrick Henning, Steve Rosenberg, Father Patrick Hipwell and the performers: Helen Jensen (#2), Stephen Self (#7), Catherine Rodland (#3), James Frazier (#5), Jeffrey Patry (#1), James Biery (#6), Steve Gentile (#4), Charles Echols (#8), Diana Lee Lucker (Gothique), and Allan Mahnke (Romane). How amazing to hear and contrast the change in style as Widor matured. This reminds me so much of the same experience I have had with the Beethoven Piano Sonatas and Monet. To see late Monet at the Marmottan Museum in Paris is a very emotional experience. For those who missed these performances, you can hear #4 and Gothique performed again at Wayzata Community Church on Sunday, January 10, at 4:00. (see article). And, if you feel like taking a little trip to Los Angeles this spring, all ten symphonies will be performed there in one day—May 10.

The January 23 Event at House of Hope promises to be a very interesting experience. Aaron is really computer savvy...I am not (see his article on first page).

Regarding the February 13 Event: A TCAGO member recently asked me: What are we to do with our organ music when we retire, stop playing, die? I asked the board; we had a good discussion and came up with an idea. We will have an Organ Music Sale at the February Event. Please bring your organ music to Westminster Church. Music will become the property of the TCAGO and all profits from the sale will benefit the Program Committee budget (see ad on page 4).

I send you my best wishes for a successful Advent and Christmas Season and a Happy New Year.

Remembering Paul Manz - Celebrating his Life

Our friend and exemplar Paul Manz (1919 - 2009) died on Oct. 28, 2009, joining his beloved Ruth where good spirits congregate. His son John reported that, with the family gathered round the bedside, they had put on a recording of the marvelous choral piece that Paul and Ruth had created, and when the text came round again to E'en so, Lord Jesus, quickly come, Paul breathed his last.

In 2001, Paul was featured in a PIPEDREAMS program of his compositions, performances and commentary. You can access an online audio stream at any time from any place with a high-speed internet link by going to:

The TCAGO Program Committee Survey: What We Learned

by Karen Flynn

Last April, all our TCAGO members received a survey asking for feedback on our recent TCAGO program offerings, as well as your preferences for types of events, event locations and times, and other program aspects in the future. We appreciated hearing from about 130 of you, and have compiled your responses and comments. Here's a summary of what we learned.

Your satisfaction with our recent programs was high. 100% of respondents who had attended programs in the past year said the programs met or exceeded their expectations. Respondents named the topic of the event and the time/scheduling of the event as the two factors that most impacted their decision to attend.

You are busy people. On the less happy side, attendance of TCAGO members at programs was mixed. While half those responding attended two or more events, 30% of respondents did not attend any TCAGO events in the past year. Reasons? We're busy people! Time and scheduling were by far the most common reason given for not attending events; location was the second highest choice.

You're well informed on what's coming up from TCAGO. More than 90% said they feel well informed of programs coming up. You mostly learn about events from Pipenotes and from chapter e-mails, and you'd like to continue those communication practices in the future.

Your interest in programs for the future generally parallels what we have done in the past. We asked you to express your preference on types of events: recitals, master classes, education programs, members' recitals, social events, organ crawls, or repertoire sessions...and you said YES. Recitals were the most popular response, but there are TCAGO members out there who like every kind of event. Our takeaway: continue to plan a variety!

There's no perfect time for our events. Most popular choice for time was Sunday afternoons, but not by a wide margin. Sunday evenings, Saturdays, and weekdays were also favored by many. Expect us to continue to vary event timing, knowing that our schedules are varied.

Who we are. We asked a bit about demographics, just to learn more about our membership. Men outnumbered women somewhat in our responses, 55% to 45%. 16% have a Ph.D., 29% a Master's degree, and 22% a Bachelor's degree in a musical field. More than 75% of us have 20 years or more of musical experience. 6% of us consider ourselves novice organists, 50% intermediate organists, and 44% experts. From an age perspective, 21% of us gave our age as 50 or younger, 50% as 51-65, and 29% as 66+.

Many thanks to all those who responded to the survey. Your answers were very valuable and will help us plan in ways that best serve you in the future. Your input or comments are ALWAYS welcome; contact any member of the Program Committee or Executive Board to share your thoughts. ♪

Lecture recitals to be presented by TCAGO members

By John Salveson and Mary Newton

John Salveson and Mary Newton, both active members of the TCAGO, will be presenting lecture recitals at the University of Minnesota. Both recitals are being presented as part of the final research project for the Doctor of Musical Arts degree at the university. The recitals will be held in Ferguson Hall (Studio 213) at the University of Minnesota.

John Salveson, TCAGO secretary and Minnesota District Convener, will be presenting his recital at 7:00 pm on Tuesday, December 1. John's recital features the organ works of Swedish organ composer and organist Oskar Lindberg. Lindberg's organ works, written in the high romantic style, draw from his roots in the Dalacarla region of Sweden.

Mary Newton, TCAGO Student Competition Coordinator, will be presenting her recital at 7:00 pm on Tuesday Dec. 15. Mary's recital focuses on the performance practice of J.S. Bach from the 20th century to the present day as evidenced in sound recordings. Works to be performed include the Prelude and Fugue in Eb Major (BWV 552), Vater unser in Himmelreich (BWV 682) and Aus tiefer Noth (BWV 686).

Both recitals are free and open to the public. We hope to see you there! ♪

'Midwinter Music' will warm and brighten your February

by Karen Flynn

It's February, 2010. It's cold and snowy out. We've already had two months of winter in the Twin Cities (maybe more judging by the number of times it's snowed in October so far) and there are at least two more to come. You'd rather be in the Caribbean, but no chance of that with next Sunday coming up. What do you do to beat the winter blahs? You run right out and sign up for 'Midwinter Music', a half-day full of education, enrichment, and enjoyment, to be held on February 13, 2010, from 8:30 am to 1:00 pm at Westminster Presbyterian Church.

'Midwinter Music', which is geared for all levels of organists and church musicians, will provide two parallel tracks of presentations and workshops. One track will highlight contemporary and global music, the other will focus on repertoire, basic hymn-playing skills and improvisation. We are privileged to have several wonderful musicians leading these sessions!

John Ferguson, Professor of Organ and Church Music at St. Olaf College, will talk about the expanding roles of church organists and the blending of contemporary and traditional music in worship. John will also lead a second session on global organ music. He'll be followed by Dave Hagedorn, Assistant Professor of Music at St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minnesota, who teaches percussion, jazz studies and world music. Dave is going to share the wonderful world of percussion with us. This will be hands-on, too, so expect a very lively hour!

Melanie Ohnstad, Director of Music and the Arts at Westminster Presbyterian Church, will review new and favorite organ repertoire. For newer organists and those seeking a refresher, Steve Gentile, Director of Music/Organist Emeritus, Church of St. Helena, and currently Music Associate at Wayzata Community Church, will cover the basics of organ registration, including French and German registration systems, and techniques for hymn playing. For those ready and willing to branch out into some new areas, David Cherwien, Cantor, Mount Olive Lutheran Church, will lead a session on incorporating improvisation into worship.

In addition to the workshops, there will be a Music Sale. Bring your donations of unneeded organ sheet music, CDs or books; these will be available for sale throughout the morning. For more details, see the Dean's column and the ad on page 4.

Westminster Presbyterian Church is an excellent location for our event, with both the 85-rank Möller in the sanctuary and the beautiful new 24-rank Dobson Opus 86 in the chapel available for our sessions. Thanks to Westminster for hosting us!

Here are the details.

Date: February 13, 2010

Time: 8:30 am – 1:00 pm (Refreshments at 8:30; programs begin at 9:00)

Place: Westminster Presbyterian Church, located at 1200 Marquette Avenue in downtown Minneapolis at the corner of Nicollet Mall and 12th Street.

Pipe Organ Discovery Day –not just for kids!

By Phil Asgian

This year's event will be in St. Paul on Sat., Feb. 20. Our host is the University of St. Thomas in St. Paul. We start at the St. Thomas Aquinas Chapel (Kney organ). Other instruments featured are the Casavant organ in Brady Educational Center, the Noack organ in St. Mary's Chapel and our own mini-opus.

Registration starts at 9:30 am and the first morning session starts at 9:45 am. This is a bit earlier than years past in order to accommodate the walk across the campus.

In the middle portion of the program, Charles Hendrickson and Michael Barone will be speaking about what makes instruments unique. If you have an organ committee that you need to educate, this would be a great opportunity.

Free pizza lunch to all participants, and interested parents that want to learn as well. The program concludes at 3:00 pm.

A registration flyer is included in this edition and a full schedule for the day can be found at our website at www.tcago.org.

Conference on Heinrich Schütz

By Kris Rongstad

"The Man, Music, Life and Times of Heinrich Schütz," A Conference of Lectures and Workshops, will be held on February 20, 2010 at the Olson Campus Center, Luther Seminary, 1490 Fulham, St. Paul, Minnesota.

Join clinicians David Mennicke, Catherine Rodland, Michael Rogness and Kathy Saltzman Romey in a conference about the life, times and music of Heinrich Schütz (1585-1672). Plenary sessions and a variety of workshops will explore the music of this seventeenth century Lutheran church musician, his contemporaries, repertoire, performance practice and the impact of the Thirty Years' War.

The conference will include a close look at the Musikalische Exequien, written by Schütz as a commission for the funeral of a dear friend. In his choice of diverse musical styles and in his conscious decision to incorporate ecumenical texts and sources, he composed a work that cut across the religious and political divisions of his time and ours.

The conference will conclude with a concert by the National Lutheran Choir which will perform this rarely heard piece. The concert will also include a set of African-American spirituals, born out of the horrific context of slavery, as well as David Cherwien's Hear O Israel for chorus, organ and percussion. Cherwien's piece embodies the song of the Jewish and Christian faiths, "Hear O Israel: The Lord is one..." yet depicts the tremendous tensions of the modern day Middle East.

[Dates, times and fees]

Registration for the conference begins at 8:00 am, Saturday morning February 20, 2010 and will conclude with a concert by the National Lutheran Choir at 4:00 pm. Conference registration includes lunch and a complimentary ticket to the concert.

To register for the conference, please contact the Master of Sacred Music Office at Luther Seminary by phone at 651-523-1612, by email at krongsta@luthersem.edu or go to the Seminary website www.luthersem.edu/schutz. Cost for the conference is $85 per person, $75 for ALCM members, $50 for students; Paid pre-registration deadline is Friday, February 12. Registration after February 12 will be $95 per person, $85 and $60 respectively. Registration at the door is not guaranteed.

Tickets for the National Lutheran Choir Concert are available to the public. Cost is $20 ($10 students, $15 groups of 10 or more, call 612-722-2301). To purchase tickets, go to www.nlca.com. 🎵
